YOUR SUMMER

IN CASE you haven't settled upon plans for your summer, one of the following suggestions may hold the potentiality of a worth-while and memorable summer. Eleven pages of additional suggestions of all kinds of activities for the summer may be found beginning on page 16. March motive. Hundreds of opportunities to do constructive work are listed there. Caravans, work camps, students in industry, individual and special projects, activities outside the United States, students in governments, institutional service, are a few of the headings under which suggestions for this summer are listed. Many students are looking for some place to dig in, some place where a construc-tive and realistic contribution to the job of meeting basic community and world problems may be made. The complexity of our present international tensions sometimes can leave us with a feeling of despair, but many students this summer will give themselves to some constructive action in the faith that by men's working together, the toughest problems which our civilization has created can be met. The magnitude of world problems may be beyond comprehension and the final outcome of them may be obscure, but there is no doubt about the availability of opportunities to meet thousands of situations of human need.

FOR TEN CENTS one may receive the booklet Invest Your Summer from The United Christian Youth Movement, 206 South Michigan, Chicago 4, Illinois. This publication is a storehouse of suggestions of ways to spend the summer as well as a source of information concerning worth-while year-round projects.

YOUNG PEOPLE are needed to work at Guacio, a ninety-five-acre farm in the San Sebastian area of Puerto Rico, where an interdenominational, interracial and international group is attempting to establish a Christian community. The neighboring people, who speak Spanish, are of Spanish, Negro and Indian backgrounds. They are generally uneducated. Guacio needs a graduate nurse, a girl experienced in dietetics and canning, who can cook for large crowds, men skilled in mechanics, carpentry and animal care. Write

LAST CHANCE

Training begins July 1st. Sailing is about September 1st. Applications must be in at once so you'd better run with yours to the nearest post office. To begin at the beginning for latecomers: A cable came from India to the States dated December 31, 1948: "Enthusiastically approve proposal of sending fifty young men and women to India during 1949." Since the arrival of that cable, plans have been perking for the departure of this group. Qualifications of applicants must be high. Health must be good. Living will not be like home. College graduates only are acceptable. They must be between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-eight. They must agree to remain unmarried for three years. They must throw their lot for the duration of the project with the destiny of India and Pakistan. If you are to be one of these fifty who decides to do some Christian living in India-dozens of different kinds of work need to be done—write to: Personnel Secretaries, Board of Missions, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York 11, New
